"NIGHT, OR RUSSIA"

Casting his troubled glance over the bloody fields of Quatre Bras, near the end of the second day of the Battle of Waterloo, the "Iron Duke" raised his eyes to the lowering skies and made his famous remark, "Night or Russia."

Now, a century later the same remark can be made, but this time paraphrased to, "Night or Russia." Struggling desperately against the fierce tide of the Kaiser's armies the allies are hard beset. If defeated their hope lies in the hosts of the Czar's myrmidons pouring over the Prussian frontiers. The Slav, once the terror of Western Europe, promises to become the saviour of the Western citadels.

PUMPKIN PIE'S POTENTIALITIES

A pumpkin pie, invested with all the glorious qualities of pastry, filling and flavor, came into the commissary yesterday, with the compliments of a Houston-Hoosier sufraget. If such pumpkin pies as this could be put into general circulation, there would be no need of ballots. Mankind would be too civilized to need governments. Much of the discord and misery in the world today is due to ignorance of pumpkin pie.—Houston Post.

"GREAT MINDS" DIFFER

In one of his sermons of the Tabernacle in this city recently Evangelist Ham severely denounced modern dances and devotees of the dance. In the meeting conducted at Lexington by Evangelist Sidney Williams, Sunday night, the evangelist took for his subject "There Is No Harm In Dancing." He invited every college boy and girl and all the young people of Lexington to hear the sermon.—Bourbon News.

GRANT'S UNION SUIT

A little girl was reading a composition of her own on "Grants Work in the Civil War." She got on swimmingly until she reached Lee's surrender at Appomattox Court House. Then she told how Lee wore his sword and was handsomely attired in full uniform, "while Grant," she announced, "had on nothing but an old ragged union suit."—Chicago Ledger.

CIRCUMSTANCES

"I will never go back to the Republican party," says the Colonel. But "never" is a word that in his mouth has had various meanings according to political circumstances.—New York World.

SINGULAR INDEED

There are now 1,548,350 automobiles running around in this neutral country and the cost of living continues very high on account of the war in Europe.—Ohio State Journal.

THEY ALWAYS PAY

"Burning houses, says the news from the war in northern France and Belgium, mark the fighting line." But, of course, whoever wins, the people pay.—Springfield Republican.

WHO GETS THE PROFITS?

If, as Judge Cary says, the war in Europe is merely a matter of dollars and cents, the participants are not getting the worth of their money.—New York World.

THEIR GLAMOUR GONE

Those "impossible" romances of Jules Verne will never be to the boy of today what they were to his daddy.—Washington Post.

JOHN D. ALWAYS WINS

Bushes soaked with kerosene light desperate night battles. Whoever loses in this war, John D. Wins.—New York World.

This country can be thankful that nothing more vital than its treasury balance is failing.

WILSON TO BE 1916 GOAT

It has been announced from Washington, almost officially, that Woodrow Wilson is a receptive candidate for a renomination. These words are modestly personified.

He is not only a receptive candidate but an absolute necessity. He has framed and dictated legislation and by the results he must stand. To think of another Democrat would be a repudiation of two years of arduous work by the President.

He has been conservative and has handled foreign situations with judgment. But from a business standpoint he has been a colossal failure. He represents business conditions. He has been the creator, the promoter of idleness. In times past every National administration has had to stand sponsor for the times. Woodrow Wilson is in that class.

It will not answer to charge the depression to the war in Europe. It was here and strongly in evidence before the cannon's roar in Belgium and France. The war has accentuated the gravity of idle shops and quiet wheels and for that Woodrow Wilson must stand.

He is a receptive candidate and an absolute certainty as the flag bearer of Democracy. And the Republicans under one flag will beat him, as the Colonel once said, to a frazzle.—Commercial Tribune.

THEN WHAT?

It became evident that the Interstate Commerce Commission could not effectively regulate the railroads. Whereupon a commission of Regulation was created to regulate the regulators. The defects in this body were later remedied by the inauguration of a Super-commission to regulate the regulators of the railroad regulators—and so on until everybody was so busy regulating everybody else that there were no railroads left to regulate.

AMERICAN CHEESE

Imported cheese will be scarce while this war lasts, but plenty of good cheese is made in this country. Americans have never consumed as much cheese as they should have, yet it is one of the cheapest and most nutritious food products available. Foreign cooks have taught New Yorkers its value, but few Americans outside this city know how extensively it is used in cooking and as a condiment.—New York Commercial.

A "SCRAP" ALL RIGHT

"Culture," which teaches that a treaty is only a "scrap of paper" is the same that converts the finest cathedral in Europe to a heap of stones and calls a concert by Ysaye a scraping of horse hair over catgut.—Investment and Industry.

HAS ARRIVED AT LAST

James Montgomery Flagg announces the arrival of an automobile that will appeal to newspaper men. It is the "Waterbury $1 motor car, eight rabbit power model."—Bluefield Daily Telegraph.

THE DAILY NOVELLETTE.

In The Shadow of The Senate.

Caesar had promised Brutus twenty bones for every stuffed bull box Brutus could land in the fall elections for him. As our story opens the two men are meeting behind the Senate building.

"Hail, Caesar!" called Brutus.

"Hail, my eye!" responded Caesar surlily. "I've lost the fall elections, and all because you didn't have the gumption to see to it that a few extra votes were crowded into the urns. I'm through with you. I know I promised to make your brother-in-law an insurance commissioner, but I take that back!" (See Tyroes Mizzie's "Graft In the Early Days!")

"Now, listen, Jule," argued Brutus. "You know it wasn't my fault. You know those dirty Progressives had the New York Ballot Urn Company install a thousand non-refillable urns just an hour before the booths opened."

"If you were any kind of a politician you wouldn't have let them do it," returned Caesar indignantly. "You're a boob and I'm through with you!" (See Angus MacDood's "Ancient Slang.") "You're a boob, do you hear—a boob!!!"

It was then that the fatal stabbing took place.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Maysville Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Maysville woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. Dora Mefford, Maysville, Ky., says: "I had been feeling poorly for some time, before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them and before long I was a great deal better. I was able to sleep well and they improved my health."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mefford had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MRS. WHITNEY

GIVES HOSPITAL

Furnishes Complete Outfit, Including Surgeons and Nurses.

New York.—Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, who was Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, left for Europe on the Lusitania with a staff of four surgeons and 15 trained nurses to establish at her own expense a large field hospital behind the firing line in Northern France. Ten motor ambulances, a large quantity of medical supplies and clothing sufficient for 3,000 men, women and children, all purchased by Mrs. Whitney as a part of her undertaking, were shipped to France last Saturday. The field hospital is to be known as a unit in the American ambulance hospital service and it is understood that Mrs. Whitney is prepared to finance other units should they be deemed necessary. Mrs. Whitney's sister, Countess Szechenyi, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, is now aiding the wounded in Austria.

FARMER MURDERED

Body of Charles T. Royce, 65, Found Under Pile of Rails—Head Cut Off—Negroes Arrested.

Carlisle, Ky., Nov. 3.—Neighbors of a starving horse in the barn of Charles T. Royce, a farmer, 65 years old, disclosed to neighbors that Royce was missing, and started a search which ended in the discovery of Royce's body under a pile of rails.

Murder is suspected. He had not been seen for eleven days. One horse had died of starvation. Royce's head had apparently been cut off, one arm was severed and the hand of the other arm was off.

THE TURKS.

Boston Post: Whatever happens, Germany must win or Turkey disappears from the map of Europe. That will furnish an additional reason for a good many people to hope that Germany will not win.

Detroit Free Press: Turkey's action not only spreads the conflagration, but it throws a new light on the desperate character of the conflict being waged. Herin is not calling upon Constantinople as a Government calls upon a natural or formal ally. It is using Turkey as a dupe, as a useful tool, cold-bloodedly, ruthlessly, without any regard for Turkey's welfare.

Brooklyn Eagle: In any case, Turkey was bound to lose if Russia came out among the victors in the great struggle. She strikes in the hope that Germany may yet succeed and that her remaining territory may be untouched. Russia has the best reasons for wanting free access to the Black Sea, reasons which all civilization will recognize.

Boston Globe: The Turk cannot count for much in Europe outside the Balkans. We have read of great activities in Arabia and along the Persian and Egyptian borders. The Germans hope of course, that their ally in the Near East will stir up a holy war, capture Egypt, drive the hated Russian out of Persia and cause India to revolt. England says she is ready for the Turk. Russia is also ready for the followers of Islam.

New York Evening Post: Thus German diplomacy, which has committed many errors, has apparently added another to the list. By bringing Turkey into the fray it has made it tremendously difficult for Italy to remain quiescent.

Philadelphia Record: If Turkey's foolish entrance into the European war is followed by the annihilation of the Ottoman empire one most desirable consequence would be the opening up of Asia Minor to a higher civilization than now exists there. Ancient history reveals that this was once one of the most populous and fertile regions in the world, and there is no reason to doubt that it could become so again if relieved of the crushing burden of Turkish incompetence and misrule. Who can say that under the wise direction of European engineers and statesmen Mesopotamia may not again blossom as a rose and the glories of Bagdad and Babylon be revived?
